

APL Media Limited is looking for an experienced marketing manager with a leadership mindset to head up a growing team and bring structure and dynamism to the marketing of the company, its events and its publishing portfolio of print and digital titles

The ideal candidate will have experience of managing a marketing division and have a proven track record of marketing innovation based on market insights that have yielded measurable results. They

Be responsible for the company's website and marketing presence (including SEO and social media presence).