How it works

Ask an imaginative question to draw targeted conversation about things you want to know about.

Share a URL or embed your engagement and begin collecting comments and votes.

Download insights reports that give you the need-to-know of a conversation not endless comments.
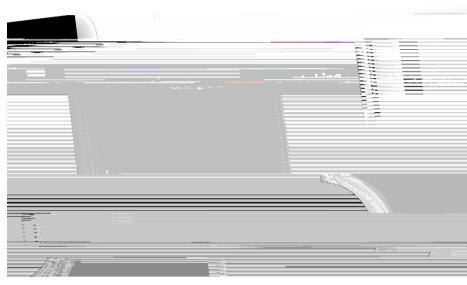

Use filters to drill down to comments of interest and discover insights as you explore.

Re-engage users with more specific prompts and collect another round of data.

Put your insights to work by making informed decisions that you can back up with quantitative data from your customers.
